

Customer Change Requests on Quotes

Jennifer M - 2023-05-05 - Client Portal

When a customer receives a quote via the Client Portal, they are able to request changes. If the customer wishes to make a change for a product within the quote, they will need to open Quote option in the Client Portal.

From within the Quote, the customer can then click on the Request Changes button within the product listing.

In the Request Changes window, the customer will need to enter their request and their name in the appropriate boxes. Both of these fields are required. When they are finished entering the information, they will click on the Save button.

Edit Changes

Can the customer request changes for multiple products at the same time? (click for answer)

Yes, each product listed in the quote will have its own Request Changes button the customer can use to convey any revisions.

Once the customer has finished entering their requests, they can scroll to the bottom of the Quotes page and click on Send Requested Changes button.

Prices are subject to change.

The customer will receive a temporary success message in the lower right corner that their change request has been submitted.

At this point, the distributor will need to open the Project in ESP+ to update the quote. An alert regarding the change request will appear via the notifications bell on the main toolbar.

When the project is opened, an orange bar will be displayed directly below the Quotes/Orders/Invoices tab. On this bar, click on the View Change Request link.

The Customer Change Request page will open with each product for which the customer has submitted a request. Click on the Edit Product link to update the product information on the quote. The change request will be available in the product information during the edit process.
